South Carolina Public Service Commission

Dear Public Service Commission,

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear, and actually invest in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support. I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient and powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians.

Years ago, I joined their program that allowed "customers" to send extra money to support the development of clean energy. I've dropped out of that program after several years with no movement towards clean energy that makes an actual difference in air quality.

If I had ANY choice in power providers, I would switch immediately.

Please help those of us trapped in this monopoly to avoid being utterly exploited by it.

Sincerely,

Melissa Tuttle

Dear Public Service Commission,

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear, and actually invest in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support.

We have plenty of solar possibilities here in SC and there are other options that can be evaluated.

How about a LOT more conservation?

I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient and powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians. We are lagging behind the rest of the country, both on the manufacturing side as well as on the installation side of things.

If we continue to do things the same way, we will continue to get the same results.

Sincerely,

Dr. Scott Simmerman
